

Routes of Social Change

Want to get involved with the Routes of Social Change project?

WEA North East are continuing with our innovative History Walks project called the 'Routes of Social Change'. These mapped walking trails explore the rich social history of North East England.

Our mission is to unite locals in researching the history of various North East locations, reflecting on how historical events impacted communities. Together, we uncover forgotten stories, guided by WEA tutors.

We'll be focusing on Blyth, Hartley, Newbiggin, Chopwell, South Shields, Washington, Spennymoor, Bishop Auckland, Easington, and Horden.

Join us as we delve into the North East's complex history, embracing its diverse communities!
